SECTION III - PROJECT SPECIFICATIONS AND SCOPE OF WORK

PART 1 – INTRODUCTION

Public Health–Seattle & King County (PHSKC) is requesting applications from community-based agencies to participate in Promoting First Relationships Agency Training, either TRAIN-THE-LEARNER training model OR Promoting First Relationships TRAIN-THE-TRAINER training model. PHSKC may select multiple agencies from all qualified applicants. The maximum amount of reimbursement available for all subsequent agreements shall not exceed $76,500 for the period of January 10, 2018, through December 31, 2018.

The selected Agency/Agencies will perform the scope of work as described in Part 2.

PART 2 – DESCRIPTION

Veterans, Seniors, and Human Services Levy - Strengthening Families at Risk 4.3 programs seek to reduce families' risk of involvement in the child welfare and justice systems by increasing strong maternal-child attachments, connections to community and/or extended families, and other indigenous supports.

A. GOAL

The goal of the project is for Agency staff to receive intensive training in the evidence based curriculum, Promoting First Relationships (PFR), in order to become a PFR AGENCY PROVIDER or PFR AGENCY TRAINER depending on past training experience.

B. TARGET POPULATION

The population focus for the project are community-based Agency staff that work with King County families with young children, primarily birth to three, who live in environments where stressors are particularly high.

C. OUTCOMES

1. Agency staff receiving the PFR TRAIN-THE-LEARNER training model will acquire skills to provide service to children and caregivers that result in:

- a. Increased school readiness
- b. Increased children's healthy social-emotional development
- c. Increased responsive, nurturing caregiver relationships

2. Agency staff receiving the PFR TRAIN-THE-TRAINER training model will be able to provide the above plus, as PFR Agency Trainers, they can train others in their Agency as PFR Learners.

PFR staff will track and measure Learners' and Trainers' progress to ensure they meet benchmarks.

D. OUTPUTS AND ACTIVITIES

From January 10, 2018, through December 31, 2018, the Agency shall accomplish the following outputs for ONE of the two training level options outlined below:

1. PFR TRAIN-THE-LEARNER level training: this is the level of training that a person is eligible for if s/he has not previously been trained as a PFR learner.
 - a. Paired learners from Agency staff shall train to become PFR Learners. Agencies may apply for more than two learners.
 - b. Learners and one Supervisor are required to attend a 2-day PFR orientation scheduled January 10 and 11, 2018, in Seattle.
 - c. Phase I Training: Learners will view 11 professionally filmed PFR sessions with caregivers (parents and child care providers) and young children (infant, toddler, special needs). The videos were developed and narrated by Dr. Jean Kelly, PFR founder, and will be available to Learners during the training period. After viewing two videos at a time, Master Trainers and Learners working in pairs will meet for 5 online sessions weekly in a virtual classroom to reflect on the filmed sessions and the PFR infant mental health essentials.
 - d. Phase II Training: During the next 3 months, Learners will implement PFR for 10 weeks visiting a caregiver/child dyad from his/her own site/caseload. The PFR Master Trainer will meet online weekly during this time with the Learner in order to provide mentoring and training on the PFR curriculum. The Learner will videotape him or herself for part or all of at least two of the home visits in order to receive feedback and consultation about his/her PFR skills. All online training sessions will include reflection on videos of the dyadic interactions and discussion about how to implement the PFR concepts and consultation strategies.
 - e. Phase III Training: Following the Phase II training, each Learner will receive 1 follow up meeting with the PFR Master Trainer to assist the Learners as they continue to implement PFR with more families on their caseloads. The follow up session will involve the PFR Master Trainer viewing parent-child interaction videos with learners, discussing how to implement specific PFR curriculum with the unique caregiver/child dyads they are working with, and problem solving any area of PFR implementation that is concerning to the Learners.
2. PFR TRAIN-THE-TRAINER level training: if a person has been trained at a PFR Learner level and if that person has passed PFR fidelity measures, s/he may apply to be considered for this training level.
 - a. The Trainer can be a single applicant from the Agency, but may be paired up with an Agency Trainer from a different agency for Phase I of the training (see below).
 - b. Phase I Training: Agency Trainers will meet weekly for three weeks online with their PFR Master Trainer to view and discuss caregiver-child observation videos to hone an Agency Trainer's observation skills in areas of attachment, parent's sensitivity and responsiveness to cues as well as other factors important to building a healthy and secure caregiver-child relationship. Agency Trainers will develop intervention goals for the dyad after viewing the videos and will practice which consultation strategies to use when giving feedback and which handouts would be most important for the dyad. During these three weeks, Agency Trainers will also read and discuss with their PFR Master Trainer articles on attachment, child development, reflective supervision, and other topics to help them learn how to support and train their own Learners once they are certified as a PFR Agency Trainer.
 - c. Phase II Training: During the next 3 months, Agency Trainers will implement PFR for 10 weeks visiting a caregiver/child dyad from his/her own site/caseload. The PFR Master Trainer will meet online weekly during this time to provide mentoring and training on the PFR curriculum. The Agency Trainer will videotape him or herself for part or all of at least two of the home visits in order to receive feedback and consultation about his/her PFR skills. All sessions will include reflection on videos of the dyadic interactions and discussion about how to implement the PFR concepts and consultation strategies. Agency Trainers will also receive consultation around how to train their own future Learners using the PFR Learner training schedule.

- d. Phase III Training: Following the Phase II training, each Agency Trainer will receive 2 follow up meetings with the PFR Master Trainer to assist the Agency Trainer as s/he continues to implement PFR with more families and as s/he begins to train agency staff in the PFR Learner model. The follow up sessions will involve the PFR Master Trainer viewing parent-child interaction videos with the Agency Trainer, discussing how to implement specific PFR curriculum with the unique caregiver/child dyads s/he is working with, problem solving any area of PFR implementation that the Agency Trainer wants further instruction in, and supporting the Agency Trainer as s/he begins to train Learners in her or his Agency. Each Agency Trainer will be required to view and process the 11 training videos before training learners at his/her site.
